George R Snowden Chief Clerk
U.S. Mint Philadelphia

Dear Sir: I hope you will pardon me for troubling you again: but in this part of the County lynx-eyes are watching every statement of a "gold-bug" to trip him up. You say in your letter to me, of the 21st inst, that "the mint would pay for a standard silver dollar under same circumstances" (i.e. "melted up, if of full weight & fineness") "about fifty two cents".

You also say "the mint price for silver is sixty cents per ounce fine." I make it that if silver is 60 cents per ounce fine the silver dollar would be worth but 464 cents

Can you straighten me out?

I thank you for your letter of the 21st. It will help me very much.

Yours truly

D. W. Eastman

George R. Snowden, Chief Clerk
U.S. Mint Philadelphia

Dear Sir:

I hope you will pardon me for troubling you again: but in this part of the country lynx-eyes are watching every statement of a "gold-bug" to trip him up. You say in your letter to me, of the 21st inst., that "the mint would pay for a standard silver dollar under same circumstances" (i.e. "melted up, if of full weight & fineness") "about fifty two cents".

You also say "the mint price for silver is sixty cents per ounce fine." I make it that if silver is 60 cents per ounce fine the silver dollar would be worth but 46+ cents.

Can you straighten me out?

I thank you for your letter of the 21st. It will help me very much.

Yours truly,
D.W. Eastman
